Students and staff returned from February vacation with most appearing rested and healthy. We had a great deal of sickness prior to vacation with still some lingering on the return. Hopefully March will bring warm weather, healthy kids and no more snow days!

Our Winter sport season has come to an end. I would like to thank all of our winter coaches for the many hours they put in to make our teams successful. Success is not measured by wins or losses, but by the way our teams present themselves. I am so proud of these young men and women with basketball, cheering and chess. Watching them cheer each other on, clap for their teammates and the other teams, then leave the buildings with their heads held high demonstrates the work these coaches put in that go far beyond the skill of “the sport”. After winter sports comes our School Play! Mrs. Miller has begun drama practices! We will be looking forward to a March performance very soon. It’s exciting to watch the student confidence and enthusiasm grow as they take part in this performance. We will be doing a new play this year titled “Rockin’ Robin Hood” . I spoke to Mrs. Miller today and asked about her vacation. She said she spent vacation sewing costumes! Again, I think it is important that people know the amount of hours that go into things like this that no one sees.

March brings our mandatory MEA testing. Our testing window will begin on March 18th. This is a busy time in our building for everyone, especially Mr. Mugnai, Mrs. Stone and Mr. Ward.
